

North America Facts

10 Fun Facts About North America!

North America is the third largest continent in the world, covering an area of about 9.54 million square miles or 24.71 million square kilometers.

Amerigo Vespucci was an Italian explorer and cartographer who played a key role in the discovery of the New World and after whom America is named.

The continent is bordered by the Pacific Ocean to the west, the Atlantic Ocean to the east, the Arctic Ocean to the north, and South America to the south.

The Rocky Mountains, located in western North America, stretch from Alaska in the north to New Mexico in the south.

The Great Lakes, located in the northeastern part of the United States and the southeastern part of Canada, are the largest group of freshwater lakes in the world by total area.

North America Facts

10 Fun Facts About North America!

Mexico City is the capital and largest city of Mexico, as well as the most populated city in North America, with a population of over 21 million people.

The Appalachian Mountains are a range that runs from Newfoundland in Canada to Alabama in the United States and are some of the oldest mountains in the world.

The United States of America is the second largest country in North America, after Canada, with an area of approximately 3.8 million square miles or 9.8 million square kilometers.

Native Americans are the indigenous people of North America, with a rich history and culture that dates back thousands of years.

The Grand Canyon, located in northern Arizona, is a massive gorge carved by the Colorado River and is considered one of the Seven Natural Wonders of the World.